To tackle issues related to restrictions faced by the ULB's due to lack of budgetary independence, massive city reorganization and modernization scheme called the Jawaharlal Nehru National Urban Renewal Mission was launched by the Government of India in 2005.

Further, with the aim of improving the sanitation situation in urban areas, the Government of India (GoI) sanctioned a policy paper prepared by the MoUD known as the National Urban Sanitation Policy (NUSP) in October 2008. In the NUSP, the GoI recognizes that sanitation is a state subject and calls all State Governments in India to prepare State Level Sanitation Strategies and ULB's to prepare City Sanitation Plans (CSP).

With the formulation of city sanitation plan manuals, the city urban local body (ULB) is expected to be facilitated and enabled to better fulfil the management tasks concerning technical, institutional and fiscal deliverables of urban city sanitation.
